Introduction to the Creative Potential Natal Report

The Earth-centered chart has been the standard in astrological interpretation since the beginning. Your horoscope addresses every area of your personal life: it describes your personality and character, your work, love life, family, children, financial affairs, education, friends, social status, and private life. It reflects tendencies in health and creativity as well as travel and religion. Whatever question you may have, an astrologer can find some answers in the geocentric chart. Some factors in the report depend on an accurate birth time. If you don't know your birth time, then any interpretations relating to houses have less accuracy.

Introduction to Signs

The signs provide the background for the movement of planets and moons. From our point of view, they provide twelve filters for the light of the planets and moons and modify or focus those energies.

Introduction to Decanates

Each sign of the zodiac is divided into three segments of ten degrees each, forming decanates. These divisions speak to the mental expression of energy, just as the signs themselves express most directly on the physical plane.

Introduction to Aspects

An aspect is the angular relationship between two points in a chart. Different aspects indicate different influences between the planets. Thus one person with the Sun in square aspect to Jupiter will have a very different energetic experience from a person with the Sun trine to Jupiter.

Introduction to Key Phrases

As a human being, intelligent activity is your birthright. It is demonstrated through creativity; this reading will consider your own creative potential and processes. The keywords and upper harmonic moons and asteroids throughout the report come from SELF EVIDENT ASTROLOGY(tm). The upper harmonics reveal multiple possibilities for the potential contained in the planet's energies.

You may notice repeated text in your report: it indicates an area of your life that is in high focus. The planets or upper harmonics involved reflect the specific qualities you can develop and use in that area of life.

Sun Introduction

THE LIGHTS: SUN AND MOON

A key to understanding the Sun and Moon is to remember that human beings, by nature of their physical existence, polarize all experience. What does this mean? To hear, you must be able to interpret variations in sound waves. To see, you must be able to interpret shades of color amid light and dark. To feel heat/cold, hard/soft, or light/heavy, you must be able to discern differences. Because you perceive dualities through your own personal filters, you will never perceive a situation or thing exactly the way someone else perceives it. However, you do have internal consistency where perceptions are concerned.

Even though you know that the Sun is immense in size, when you look at the sky, the Moon appears to be the same size. The Sun and Moon reflect equal parts of your experience. The Sun reflects the conscious center of the psyche—the primary focal point of your ambition and life mission. The Moon tells you about your less conscious side. Your most pressing agendas in life arise from the unconscious mind. Often unbidden, sometimes unwanted, these urges drive you forward in life. On the positive side, the inner voice is always with you, it never deserts you, and it continues to speak, even when you don't listen. But when you do listen, there is a wealth of encouragement and guidance at your disposal.

The Sun

The Sun represents the direction of your personal mission and spiritual path. The Sun is the source of life, and as such it is one of the most powerful point in the chart. The Sun's placement provides a focus for the conscious experience of your energy. Your Sun sign shows the direction of your energy -- the thrust of your individuality. The house shows where you will exert your energy and where vitality will express most naturally.

Sun in Aries

KEY: birth is visible

The Sun in Aries represents a point of beginning or initiation. Having passed the first day of Spring, your Sun now climbs higher in the sky, illuminating and warming the earth.

Action and intuition are the hallmarks of the Sun in Aries. Thus Aries exemplifies action, based upon intuition. Even if you don't realize it, intuition is a strong force in your life if you have the Sun (or other planets) in Aries. You love having a direction in which to go, just like the ram, the symbol of Aries. You do sometimes look at your opposition, put your head down, and charge. If you engage, great. If not, you look around, find another objective, and charge forward again.

As you gain experience in the world, you learn some finesse. Perhaps you consider your choices more carefully before moving ahead. Or maybe you make sure you are in the power position before you take action. Whichever way you go, you are bold and passionate. For you the adage 'Haste makes waste' was written to be understood, then ignored.
